TROY LIVES IN AGELESS GLORY

Out of the shadows of unrecorded time have come legends of a people so noted for bravery that even after thousands of years their name — TROJANS — still stands as a synonym for courage and valor. The renown of this people's stronghold — TROY — is preserved today in the names of American cities. The TROJAN HORSE, as the emblem of their great and final battle, is as real to school children of our times as the motley fleet at Dunkirk.

It is because of the glory associated with these ancient warriors that students of Topeka High School some years ago adopted the title of TROJANS for their athletic teams. So fitting was the name that Topeka High School itself soon became known as TROY and its students, as well as its athletes, as TROJANS.

Modern TROY, with its 2,000 students, is a city within a school. Modern TROJANS are its proud citizens. They look back at a glorious tradition, and forward to a future rich with challenge and achievement.

The 1947 Sunflower pictures the present TROY, and the staff therefore dedicates this yearbook to THE TROJANS — old and new.

During the three years of their high school career, members of the Class of '47 have absorbed much knowledge—knowledge which will help them cope with the bewildering problems that exist in our modern world. For the better part of three years, they have been working tirelessly in both war and peace to bring honor to the halls of Troy.

We shall unquestionably hear more about these graduates in the years to come. They will be found among the distinguished leaders in the world of commerce, authorship, religion, and other worthwhile fields of endeavor.

Yet, before they go forward into institutions of higher learning or into the business world and into all manner of productive vocations, let us read through the following pages to view the achievements of the valiant and successful Class of '47 while still within the halls of Troy.

Queen

June Knox, the gracious Queen of the All-School Party, has been a favorite during her three years at Topeka High. June has been active in school government, holding class offices in both her Junior and Senior years. She has also been active in the Senior Girls' Council, Senior Glee, and dramatics. Her happy disposition and friendliness won for her the highest personal honor that can come to a Senior.

King

Kenneth Dinklage, elected King of the All-School Party, brings intelligence and enthusiasm to everything he undertakes. "Kenny" this year has been Speaker of the House in the Student Congress. A former editor of The World, he has also carried leads in two plays. Kenny is president of the Red Cross Council and Quill and Scroll, and served as cheerleader. This spring he has been student radio announcer for the school.

Here we are as Juniors, able to look forward or backward without turning our heads. Looking up front we see the Seniors pulling up stakes, ready to hand the school over to us; then, looking back, we can remember the swell times we've had warming hands at Pep rally bonfires, cheering the football, basketball, and track squads on to victory, especially the Juniors' members—and there were a good many of them too! By now we are almost professional campaigners, and we'll be all set to really add to the campaigning next year.

Wasn't our Junior Play a riot? First big success of the year! It was just a sample of the fine talent that will await Topeka High next year. We sure treated the lordly Seniors to a bang-up Junior-Senior Prom, something that will make the present Sophomores work hard to equal.

The efficient leadership of our class started the year in a manner that gives promise of great accomplishment in all fields. Yes, those front row seats in the auditorium will be ours next year!

Gee, but isn't it grand to look back on the confusion of enrollment and all the other things we did during the year? Just think, the largest Sophomore class ever to enroll. And boy, did we get kidded by those upper classmen! There were occasions when we didn't get to class on time, but it wasn't our fault that we couldn't get our lockers open.

Around Christmas time, we attended our first real "formals." Boy, were we proud! After-game varsities seemed like heaven to us after those Junior High hops. At our Sophomore Party we showed upper classmen that we could really go to town. Our social life began to be on the beam, what with attending all those plays and the All-School Party. We even managed to get parts in the dramatic productions. Boy, will we be glad to be Juniors next year and get our chance to kid those ignorant Sophomores!

SCHOOL HEADS LEAD

Troy Prospers

"During the most difficult years of the war, the present school administration in Topeka took over, and the system which has been developed since that time has now been given national recognition as one of the nation's foremost public school organizations," explained Dr. Kenneth McFarland in one of his talks with the student body.

This year the Board of Education has inaugurated the "Ten-Point, Ten-Year Plan," a plan whereby the board will make as many improvements as are necessary, reduce the school's overhead indebtedness, and improve scholastic standing. This new plan is flexible, and may be altered as circumstances change.

Dr. McFarland has done many fine things for Topeka High, and Topeka High is proud of him and his work. More power to him and his able backers, the Topeka Board of Education!

With the present year, great changes have taken place in Topeka High's administration. For the first time in three years, there has been at the helm a permanent principal—E. B. Weaver, the friend of every student in school.

With the coming of two assistant principals, Dr. Giles Theilmann and Dr. Don Walters, the new Guidance Department was formed. Dr. Walters has special charge of curriculum and Dr. Theilmann of guidance. Kenneth H. Meyers, a former member of the faculty, became a counsellor in the Guidance group, together with Miss Annabel Pringle, Dean of Girls.

Under the new plan, students have had opportunity for individual counselling on vocations and for sympathetic advice on personal problems. School spirit has been given new impetus, with steady improvement and high enthusiasm.

FACULTY ADDS MANY Staff Now Complete

Two new assistant principals and eight new faculty members filled the gaps of a war-depleted staff last September, and for the first time since 1941 Topeka High School had its full quota of administrators and teachers. The result has been personalized attention for all students.

The assistant principals are Dr. Giles Theilmann, former dean of men and professor of secondary education at Park College, Parkville, Mo., and Dr. Don Walter, previously assistant principal of New York City's Horace Mann High School.

Faculty additions include Robert Briggs, Miss Gladys Brooks, Kenneth Powers, Walter Russell, Mrs. Fern Taylor, Miss Mildred Wells, Mrs. Paul White, James Willcoxon.

Murray Brown, Lloyd Kistler, and Willard Thorpe returned to the faculty after periods of war service. Mrs. Charles Smith and Richard Blehm became permanent after serving as substitutes last year.

Miss Mary Knox came in at mid-year to take the place of H. D. Shotwell, who had joined the State Vocational Board. Mrs. C. J. Morgan, who taught in the Fall for Mr. Shotwell, assumed Miss Rida Duckwall's classes in January, when Miss Duckwall went to teach in the State Teachers College at Emporia.

This year sees the retirement of Miss Carmie Wolfe, for many years chairman of the English department, and C. A. Hays, printing teacher and baseball coach. Murray Brown has resigned to become football coach at the College of Emporia.

Miss Helen Graves heads the office force. Mrs. LeRoy Pitt, Mrs. Fred Wilkin, Miss Phyllis McCord, Mrs. William Rieniets, and Miss Gertrude Jones are the other secretaries.

SECRETARIES

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

elty, Wingate, Hazard, Gurfman, Archer, Miller, Hutchinson, Meckel, Yeager, Patterson, Neil, Cowger, McConnell, Collins, Schulte, Hillyer, Lundgren, Shyne.

With the first rap of Vice-President Bob Shyne's gavel, and the introductory words of Jack Ward, President, members of Topeka High's Student Council declared themselves wholeheartedly for the interests of the student body.

The Council gave its first attention to organizing the Pep Club. Then came the "float parades" during the football games, and the creation of the Troy Club.

When time rolled around for the All-School Party, everyone was gratified by the talent that had been selected.

In an effort to help us choose our course for the next few years, the Student Council assisted with College Day.

Courtesy Week was a creation of this progressive Council. Perhaps we hear its "Howdy Hall" still, and remember the little "It Pays To Be Courteous" cards. Lastly, the Council tackled the job of tightening up the loop holes in the charter.

Important in the Student Congress, the Representative Council draws its members from the home rooms, each having one delegate. In the Council school questions are discussed, and bills are sent to the Student Council for approval. Its members keep their constituents informed about the proceedings of the Student Congress and in turn report to the Council the sentiment of home rooms.

Paul Fink, a Junior, was first elected Speaker of the House, but resigned when it was discovered the amended 1944 charter required that the speaker be a Senior. A new election made Kenny Dinklage the Speaker.

One undertaking of the Representatives involved the selling of Activity Tickets; members this year sold more than 1500, a record number. The Council also was active in behalf of the Red Cross.

Through the Representative Council, new ideas for progress were put into effect; and government of the students, by the students, and for the students has been greatly facilitated.

Many successful parties, the initial Rambler basketball Queen, and the Rambler banquet, were only a few of the accomplishments of the 1946-47 Advisory Council.

With Richard Ridley and Samuel Jackson directing, the Council strove constantly for more affairs for colored students.

Miss Berenice Fuller, as sponsor, guided the activities of one of the most fruitful years in the Council's history. She was assisted by Mr. Carl P. Snyder.

A discussion on "Boy Dates Girl" and other topics were on the agenda of the Booker T. Boys and the Phyllis Wheatley girls. Both groups helped with parties. Delores Hill headed the girls' club; and Ray Webb and Eddie Turner led the boys' organization.

An innovation was the Rambler Pep Club. Headed by Abbie Williams and Paul Smith, this organization contributed largely to the success of the Rambler cage team.

Aids Many Causes

Topeka High's chapter of the Junior Red Cross climaxed in March one of its busiest years of service when it packed 218 gift boxes to be sent overseas to European school children. This, however, was only one in a crowded schedule of Red Cross activities.

The Junior Red Cross council organized at the first of the year with the following officers: president, Ken Dinklage; vice-president, Don Shultz; secretary, Bob Shyne; and treasurer, Billie Strickland.

The council's first project was to put on an informal rally for the Junior Red Cross sponsors and two students from each of a number of Shawnee county schools. This was prior to the membership drive, a cause to which Topeka High students contributed $180. On Armistice Day the council sponsored a World Fellowship assembly, the speaker of which was a former member of the Norwegian underground, Miss Inger Kristen Moe.

Special services of the Junior Red Cross council this year have included: furnishing 500 Christmas cards for hospitalized soldiers at Randolph Field, Texas; sponsoring four teas for patients at Winter General Hospital; sending volunteers to work in the Red Cross office there; and wrapping Christmas packages for the patients. The council supplied special helpers several days at the Red Cross Fund headquarters, and passed collection boxes at a basketball game during the polio drive.

Row 4: Janice Condron, Marjorie Crane, Jeanne Nettleton, Joanne Nettleton, Dorothy Paramore, Judith McCoy, Ann Lundgren, Joanne Weaver, Peggy Scott, Billie Strickland.

Senior Girls' Council, under the guidance of Miss Annabel Pringle, started a busy year by acquainting the Sophomore girls with their "big sisters" at a gala Little Sister Party.

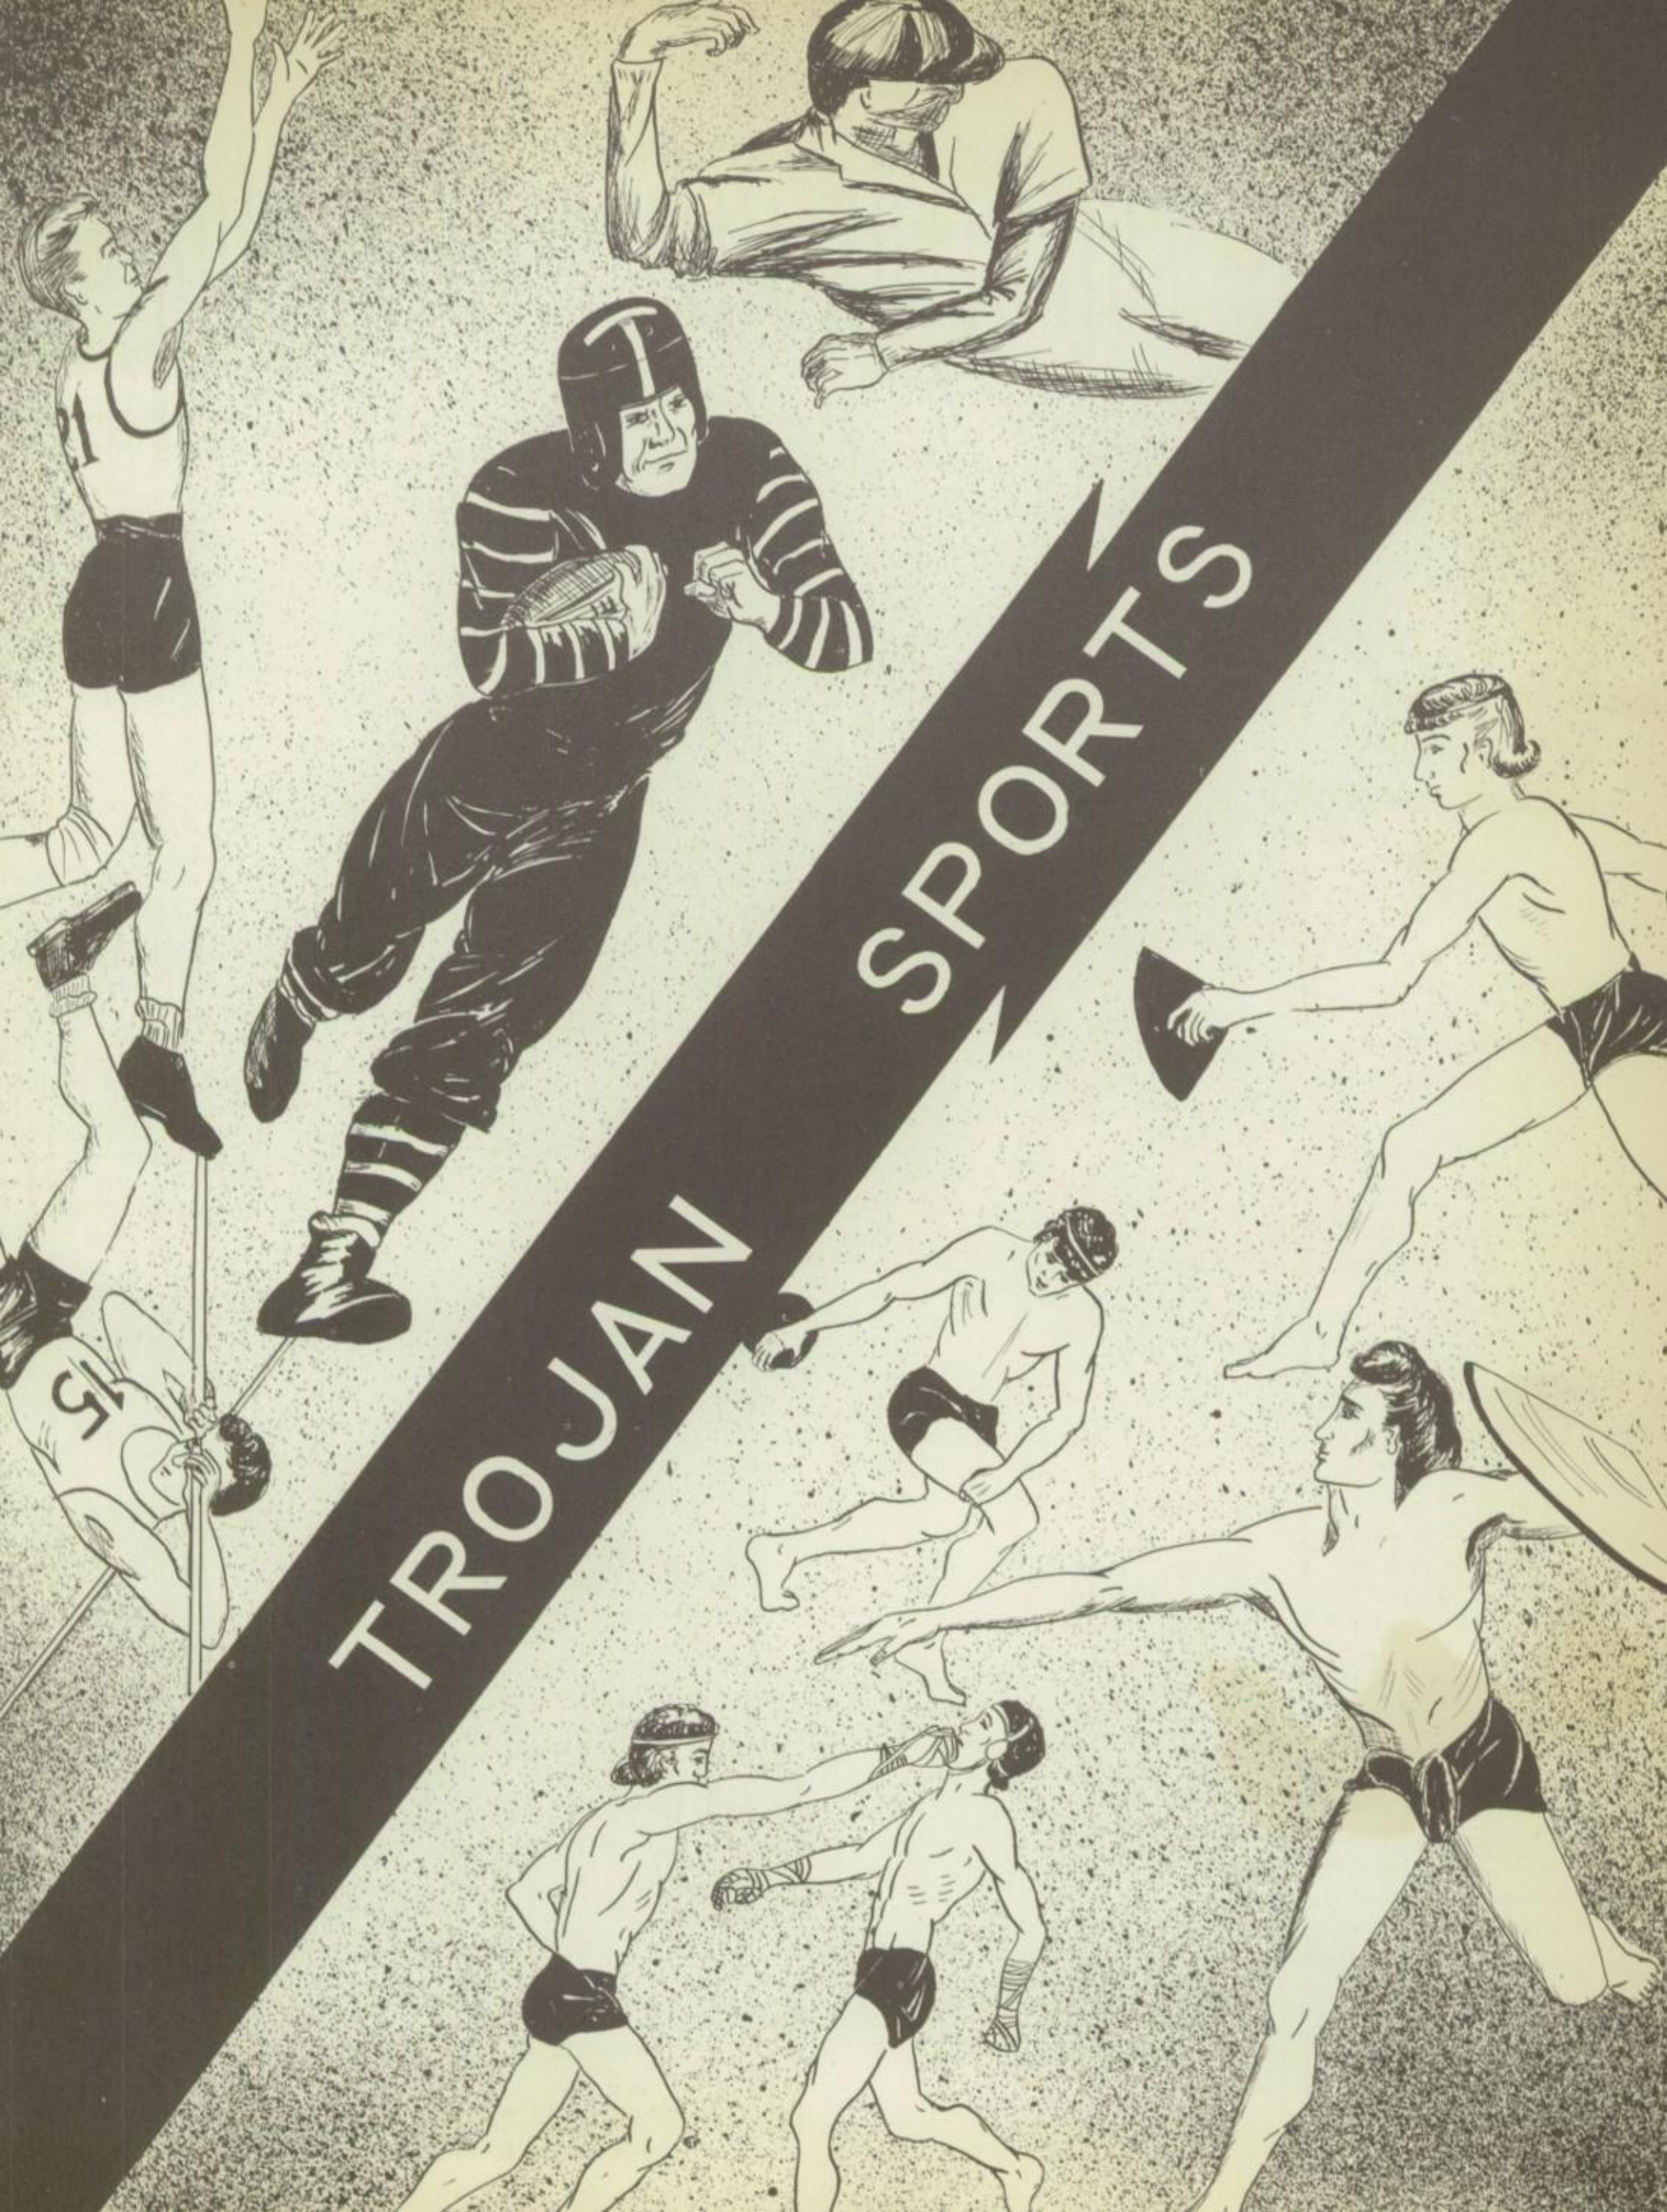

This group of 34 Senior girls, chosen by the Student Council for their leadership and scholastic ability, elected Frances Hall as their president and Betty Marston as secretary.

Activities of Senior Girls' Council included helping with College Day, when students could bring their parents to consult representatives from various colleges all over the United States, and monthly Sugar 'n Spice meetings. These meetings gave all girls an opportunity to learn, from both the boys' and the teachers' points of view, what to do and what not to do on dates, at school, or wherever they might be. They sponsored a graduation tea for Seniors and their parents, after Baccalaureate services.

The girls served at many teas during the year and acted as hostesses at Open House.

GRIDSTERS MEET STIFF SEASON

They Make 50-50 Average

With the tough schedule that Coach D. L. "Heavy" Erwin lined up, the 1946 grid squad made a fairly good showing, winning four, tying one, and losing four. Yet with this .500 average came a lot of fun and experience that made the season well worth while. Using a combination of the deception of the "T" formation and just plain straight-forward "good" football, this Trojan team was a match for every opponent.

The season started off with a bang when the Troy gridgers routed Salina 19-6. Morale was at a high until Lawrence dropped Topeka High 20-0, with Near cleaning up on off-tackle smashes. A surprising Ottawa team held Troy to a 13-13 deadlock and set the record at 1-1. Topeka tamed the Ward Cyclone 25-6 in mid-season, losing the next week to Wichita North 13-0. The team on Dads' Night bounced back to defeat the highly touted Classen 27-6.

A 12-0 shutout at the hands of Wichita East and a 26-12 win over Wyandotte concluded the home season and left one game to finish the season at Enid. The Enid gang had too much on the ball for Troy, and Coach Erwin relied on the "Lambert Special" to prevent a shutout. The final score was 19-7.

STARS AID SPORTS

All Have Chance

All participants in Topeka High athletics are potential members of the "T" Club, an organization of boys who have earned their letter in one or more sports. The purpose of the club is to promote fellowship among athletes and further the athletic interests of the school. This year an active club, sponsored by Coach "Heavy" Erwin, prepared and sold programs for the Regional and State basketball tournaments. Later, members put on their annual Sadie Hawkins Day dance and closed the year with an evening of moving pictures of the Enid game. Charles Benson was president; Jack Lambert, vice-president; Glenn Archer, secretary-treasurer.

Troy's football system, ranking near the top in Kansas, is built upon a carefully graded plan. At the base is the intramural system, open to all boys. Next comes the B team, from which eventually are drawn most of the A or Varsity squads. Most stars of the varsities have worked up from intramural or B teams.

HOMECOMING QUEEN REIGNS

Team Chooses Monita

Kept a closely guarded secret until the very last, the identity of the Homecoming Queen was revealed only when the paneled convertible moved at a stately pace around the track. As the car came to a halt, the crowd roared approval of the football players' choice—Monita McNeill, Queen of the Homecoming game, and her attendant, Billie Strickland.

Cheers continued as Jack Ward, President of the Student Congress, and Kenny Dinklage, Speaker of the House, escorted the honored girls to the microphone in the center of the field. Here the traditional mums and corsage borne by diminutive flower bearers were presented to the Queen and attendant of Topeka High's Homecoming. Monita reigned in gracious glory at the Troy Club dance following the game, to which the evening's opponents, Wichita North, were invited.

COACHES DRILL TEAM

Perfect Its Form

This past year, many a loyal Trojan was thrilled to see the football team come driving down the field. The stamina and enthusiasm with which our team greeted each new opposing team were a constant source of renewed interest to the onlookers. Win or lose, the hard-fighting spirit and determination of the team were matched only by their sense of fair-play. The coaches, D. L. "Heavy" Erwin, Bob Briggs, and Vernon Hayes, were largely responsible for the successful football year.

"Heavy," the head coach, has been at Topeka High for a number of years, but both Bob Briggs and Vernon Hayes are new additions to the coaching positions. The three of them have worked together to prepare the football boys for this year's first team and the varsity squads of the future.

Topeka high school Trojans under the guidance of Head Coach Chet Davenport brought its 1946-47 basketball season to a close with 15 wins and seven losses.

The first time the Trojans came into the state-wide limelight was when they knocked Ward out of the undefeated ranks after Ward had won eight straight games. Their superiority was again displayed when they beat Newton 29 to 27, on Newton's own court.

Topeka High exhibited an extremely tough defense to crack, as their opponents tallied an average of only 30 points a game. The Trojans had a 30-point mean for their season's work. They were also noted for rugged rebounding ability. Chet Davenport's charges featured a three out and two in offensive style out of which they ran their dreaded screen plays.

Trojans entered the regional tournament at Topeka with 13 wins and five losses. They met Leavenworth in the first game of the tourney and won 48 to 38. In the final game, with Coach Davenport under the weather with the flu, Topeka was beaten 33 to 42 by the Lawrence Lions.

The first game of the state AA basketball tournament held at Emporia found the Trojans pitted against the Columbus Titans. Topeka won this game 55 to 28. On the following day they faced powerful Ark City. This proved to be the last game of the season for Topeka High. Ark City eked out a 42 to 40 victory over the Trojans in an overtime game. Ark City went on to beat Newton in the semifinals, but lost to Wellington in the finals of the tournament.

The Trojans seemed to lack that unknown something which makes a team a consistent winner. But this team could stand up beside any of the past Topeka High teams in the way of training, teamwork, and spirit.

TEAMS GET GOING

'B's' Show Promise

When Chester Davenport came to Topeka High School three years ago a new athletic program was being organized in the Topeka school system. "Chet" took over at Topeka High and produced a winning team first year, losing a heart breaker to Salina for the state championship. Since then Topeka High has always had a better than average team, this year advancing to the quarter finals in the state playoff.

"B" team coach, Murray Brown, has led an active life as an athlete, starring on many football and basketball teams. He came from K.U. to Topeka High School in 1942 and stayed for almost a year before he was called into the Navy. He came back to the Topeka High faculty this year. Known for his good humor and friendliness, he brought his "B" team from behind to make the most of the season. After improving all season the Junior Club showed good prospects for next year's team.

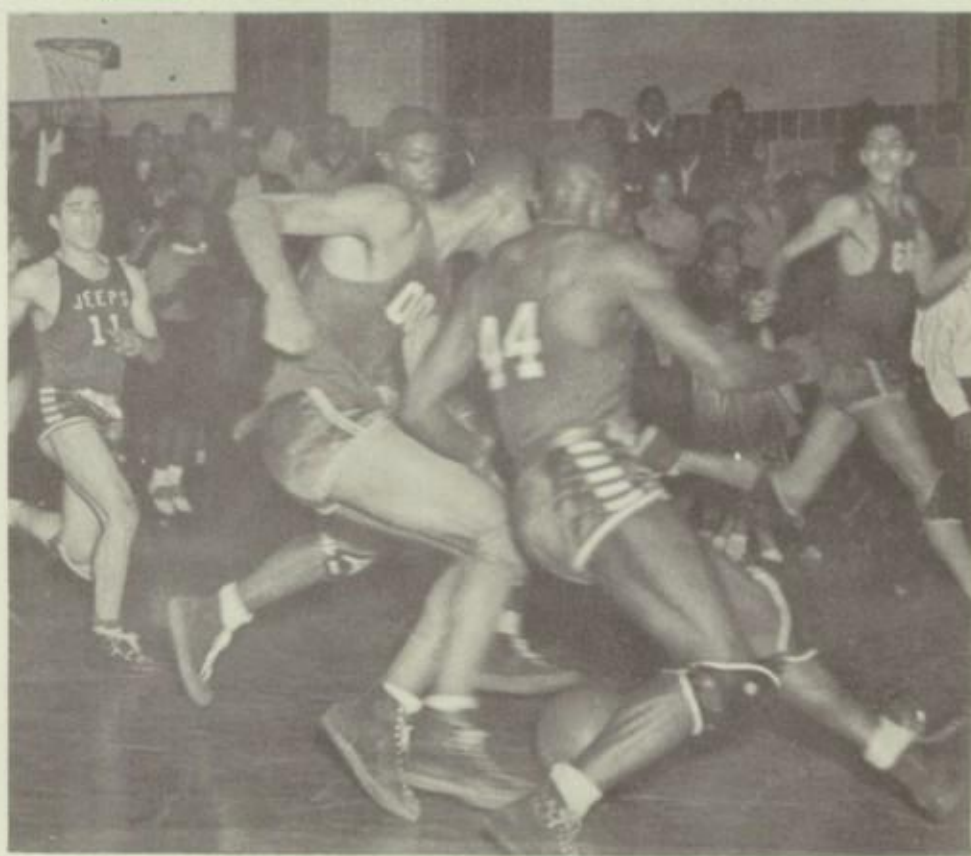

THE RAMBLERS

The Rambler Basketball season came to an end with the annual banquet in the Topeka High cafeteria, where Samuel Jackson, president of the Spring Advisory Council, presented the Basketball Queen, Sara Mae Jaco, and her attendants, Theresa Byrd and Barbara Revely. The Pep Club composed a guard of honor.

Samuel Jackson, as team captain, led the boys to a successful basketball season aided by Adrian King and Joe Harvey as bucket-makers. The rambling Ramblers' season swung to a close in a tilt with a fast-stepping Independence quintet.

Cheerleaders Pauline Wilson, William Cunningham, Delores Hill, Jackie Davis, and Sara Jaco were at all the games leading the cheers and supporting the team in tight spots.

Spirit Soars

Pep rally participants clap and chant around bonfire.

Leading the school in its up-surge of school pep this year was the team behind the team—the Cheerleaders of Topeka High. Since Topeka High had grown in enrollment, it was decided to have twelve cheerleaders instead of the usual six. The race to win the coveted positions was run off in Trojan style, both fast and furious.

Those elected started the season by leading the student body in pep assemblies, at football games, and at pep rallies. After football came basketball, and the pepsters were out front cheering for the home team. An out-of-town trip to a game was awarded to the group during each of these sessions.

Sponsors were elected by the cheerleaders themselves. James Willcoxon and Mrs. Betty Hamlet of the Physical Education department served in this capacity.

PEP STIRS SCHOOL

Club Draws 900

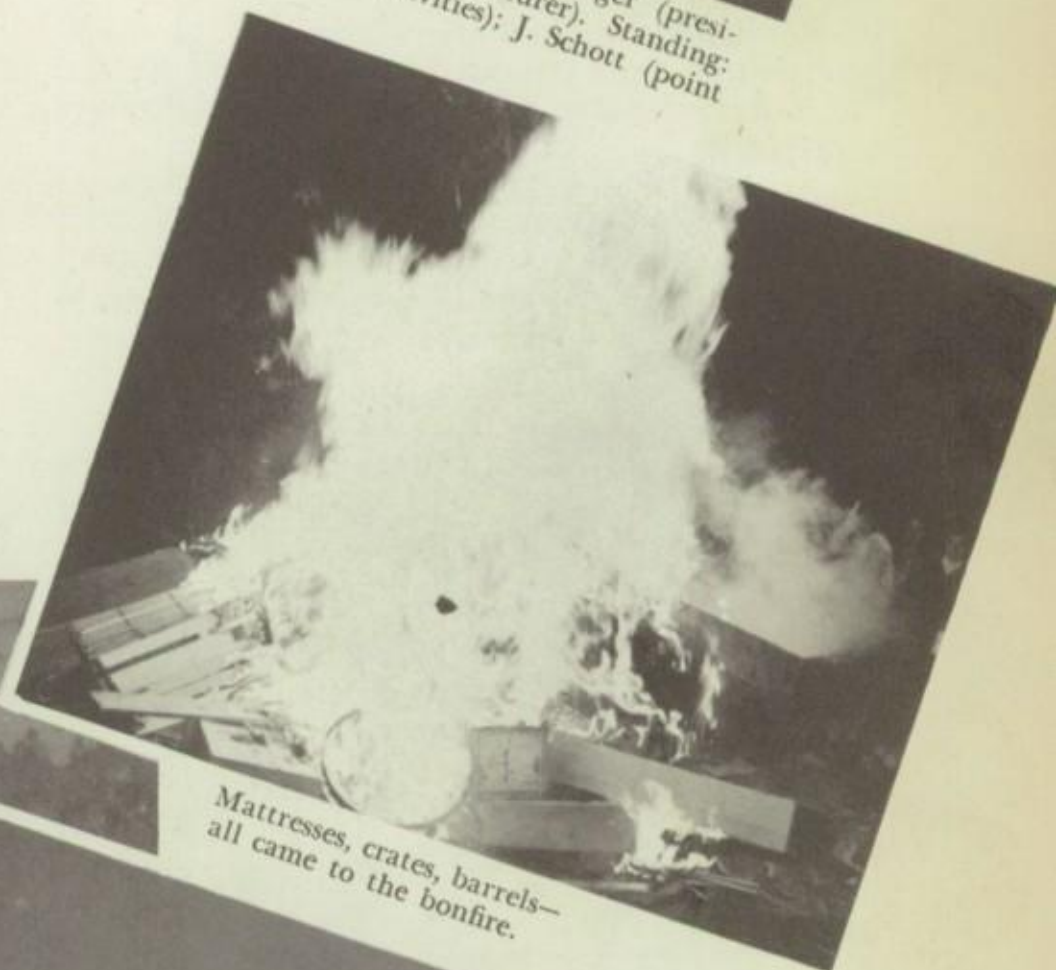

A new Pep Club was "ready to go" last fall as the result of Student Council planning the spring before. Members of the Council who carried over took charge. Students volunteering for membership elected Don Yeager president, Ira Rogers vice-president, Margaret DeVore secretary, and Monita McNeill treasurer.

During the football season the Pep Club revived the bonfire and snake dance. Realizing that a club of 900 was too large to function successfully in the basketball season, officers worked out a new constitution and reduced the size of the group. A cheering section was developed, with members wearing black sweaters and Pep Club emblems. As a climax to the year they gave a big party.

Sponsors of the club were Jim Willcoxon, Miss Dorothy Lutton, Miss Mildred Wells, and Mrs. Betty Hamlet.

TRACK MEN TAKE MANY FIRSTS

Successful Season Rewards Briggs

While the crowd is pouring into the stands, a bevy of stars are warming up out on the field. Several gold-clad performers are taking practice jumps and starts. When the stands are filled, the meet begins. Trojan thin-clads are considered good competition in any meet, and this one is no exception. The mile relay team is always good for five points, and Sharp Smith's winning broad jumps may take the state.

* * * *

Besides several dual meets Topeka High tracksters entered the Ottawa Relays, Haskell Relays, K.U. Relays, Baker Relays, and regional and state meets.

At the Baker Relays, Robert Briggs' proteges won the meet, taking five firsts. High point man was Jack Lambert, who took first honors in both the high jump and the 120 yard high hurdles, in addition to being on the winning mile relay team. Sharp Smith again garnered a first place in the broad jump, as did the mile relay team composed of Tom Pearson, Charlie Benson, Lambert, and Bruce Rathbun, thus repeating their conquest of first positions another time.

Adrian King, ace Topeka pole-vaulter, tied for first, clearing the bar at 11 feet 6¾ inches. King also took third in the 120 yard high hurdles. Hall Smith placed second in the javelin toss, being outdistanced only by Dick Johnson, Lawrence star weightman, who placed first in all three distance events. Don Durand tied for third in the pole vault event.

The thin-clads barely missed two other chances for first, coming out second in both the sprint medley and the half mile relay. The sprint medley is made up of George Davis, Dallas Freeborn, Smith, and Sam Moore.

On the half mile relay team are Davis, Freeborn, Rathbun, and Lambert. Davis, anchor man on the sprint medley, ran the final 40 yards in 51.9, running in a dead heat with the Wyandotte man, losing the race in the last seconds.

HAYS NINE RATES AGAIN

Maintain Fine Record

Coach C. A. Hays called all his old stand-bys and all new hopefuls out to the diamond March 17. Bad weather stopped early practice, but the team was soon whipped into shape. The veteran pitching staff consisted of Ed Wilson, Harland Coffman, Frank Logan, Howard Pool.

With the American Legion team of the preceding year, the team was still intact except for Don Bliss, catcher, and Bill Ransom, first. The boys had their usual successful season on the diamond. In the infield "Chick" Gordon is at first, Don Farmer at second, Dick McConnell at short, and Bud Fawl at third. Outfielders are Bob Schulte, John Alberg, and Paul Fink.

All-around good ball playing and superb pitching led Topeka to another high place in the state baseball laurels. No hitters by Ed Wilson and Howard Pool climaxed the season of eleven games with Wyandotte, Haskell, Rockhurst, and Wichita North. Coach Hays closed his coaching at Troy with a consistently brilliant list of victories.

Twenty golfers, under the supervision of E. L. Fink, practiced at the Topeka Country Club, and participated in several meets. The boys who signed up were: John Ashley, Bill Baxter, Ray Beers, Walter Cole, Don Gascoigne, Dale Higgs, Jim Lagerberg, Paulson Leighton, Robert Miller, Ralph Mullins, Jim Nellis, Tom Oliver, Jim Perine, Marvin Spencer, Paul Williams, Lee Neeley, Phil Peterson, Keith Holt, Mel Crosby, and Tom Webb.

Lettermen returning to the squad were Keith Holt and Ray Beers.

WRESTLING

As the muscle men of Topeka High look for a winter sport, wrestling comes to the rescue. Topeka's mat maulers had a tough time this year and were pitted against some of the best wrestlers in the state. They won several places and had a lot of fun. Floyd Holcomb, teaching this year in the Trade School, was the coach.

TENNIS

With two returning lettermen forming the bulwark of a top-seeded Trojan tennis team, Coach "Bill Barnett" led his charges through a victorious season. With Gene Echols, No. 1 man on the T. H. S. team and in the state, and Charles Crawford in the singles and Glenn Archer and Gary Stearns dealing in double stock, the net team had the power needed to carry them through the state tournament. With many Juniors on the team, next year's team should prove a repetition of this year's.

GIRLS PLAY IN GYM

'Janes' Join Troy

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Betty Hamlet, and with the assistance of Miss Dorothy Lutton and Miss Mildred Wells, the girls' gym department has made unusual progress throughout the year.

Troy Janes, a newly organized club for girls, has become a recognized function in school life and the charter has been approved by the Student Council.

A board, consisting of twelve girls, was selected from the gym classes to form the nucleus of the organization. Points are given for participation in clubs and intramurals, and certificates are awarded to those achieving the most.

Clubs for tap dancing, tumbling, modern dance, swimming, and square dancing have been started and have developed into highly successful clubs. Each club is a part of the Troy Jane organization. Intramurals are played in basketball, pingpong, and speedball, while classes work on various activities such as square dancing, badminton, baseball, archery, exercises, and drills.

Participation in the Physical Education Exhibition which was held in the early spring gave an excellent demonstration of the accomplishments of this department.

CONCESSION STAND WORKERS

Concession Stand Workers are the girls with the cherry smile and the courteous manners who wait on spectators at the games. Throughout the long tournaments and games, whenever that ol' demon Thirst got down, these girls were always on the job with paper cups of ice-cold cokes.

Part of the fun of everything is eating (don't deny it) and the Concession Stand workers could be relied upon to do their best to serve us. A vote of thanks goes to these workers, for their spirit of cooperation and service this past year. This organization was under the capable leadership of G. C. Rieniets. George Walrafen was manager.

GROUPS VOLUNTEER TO SERVE TROY

GAME CADETS

Another group of hard-working citizens of Troy are the Game Cadets. This group sold tickets at all the games, managed game finances, and even sold the programs until the Pep Club took over this project. The efficiency and speed of the ticket sellers enabled spectators to go through the gates quickly, and the programs were splendid guides and souvenirs. No one, except those who work on them, realizes how much work is connected with the financial matters of each game. The alert efficiency and willingness to serve will make these Game Cadets remembered with our deep appreciation.

Richard Meckel, Spring World Editor

Leafing through the Worlds for 1946-47, we are convinced that it has been a rather remarkable year. Starting with a new guidance program and the largest student body ever to waltz down Topeka High's corridors, the year was launched with a well-managed election campaign.

A satisfying sports calendar began unrolling in October with football; then came basketball, then the spring sports—all attended with spontaneous enthusiasm. Social life blossomed with varsities, the newly formed Troy Club, All-School Party, Prom, and other class parties. Beginning with "The Pirates of Penzance," the music department continued to acquire laurels as the year progressed. Dramatic productions were even more successful than usual.

There were other highlights—College Day, Senior Sneak Day, faculty changes, a new enrollment plan, sharp assemblies, scholarship awards. All in all there was so much going on that the six-page World had to be expanded to eight pages!

Business staffs of the Fall and Spring World were led by Helen McCaig and Curt Hunsecker in that all-important job of managing the World's financial affairs. Jobs varied. Some business staff members tramped the Avenue and camped in downtown stores for ads, while others worked in the home office—Room 219. The bookkeeper and secretary kept the records straight with a well-organized system of bookkeeping. Circulation experts saw that every one got his World on time. Furnishing the ads kept the solicitors on their toes, so the World might be enlarged to eight pages and use numerous illustrations. These groups backed the editorial staffs with their willingness to work and a thorough knowledge of the job they had to do. This resulted in your Topeka High School World.

'47 STAFF TRIUMPHS

Overcomes Shortages

"Where's the Junior Play copy?" "Two snaps of the Homecoming Queen, and make them good!" "Now call this firm, and see if they won't take a full page ad," etc., etc.

Scurrying footsteps, accompanied by mock sighs of weariness, characterized the predominately feminine Sunflower staff at work. From the beginning of the Fall semester, up to a few weeks ago, Editor Frances Hall, Business Manager Peggy Scott, and their staffs planned, deliberated, schemed, and worked in order that your '47 Sunflower might arrive on schedule.

Faced with shortages of film, flashbulbs, and time, the staffs nevertheless worked enthusiastically, having fun, and at the same time accurately recorded the full year's activities at Topeka High.

SCRIBBLERS REVIVE MAGAZINE

Debate Team Flourishes

After an absence of ten years, the Scribbler again resumed publication as Topeka High's literary magazine. It used borrowed cuts, to be sure, but had brand-new, original stories, essays, poems, and features.

Under the direction of Miss Carmie Wolfe, Creative Writing students sponsored the magazine, although handicapped by the illness of their sponsor and their own inexperience. The theme was "Fifteen Years in Topeka High," dedicated to all those who call the House of Troy their Alma Mater. Interviews with members of the original school board, pictures, poems, and stories carried out this idea.

Playing host to more than 225 students and judges at the twelfth annual debate contest November 22 and 23, the Topeka High School Debate team began a busy season. Visiting debaters for the two-day tournament were entertained at a banquet followed by a varsity in the cafeteria. Judith McCoy, senior member of the Debate team, presided at the dinner.

After taking part in tournaments at Newton in November, at Pittsburg, Hutchinson, and El Dorado in December, and at Wyandotte High in January, the debaters' busy season ended in a district tournament in Lawrence in February.

Walter Russell, a new member of the English department, coached debate this year.

THE PLAY'S THE THING!

Student Actors Score Three Times

Everyone agreed after the three plays were given that this year had been a "bang up" one for the dramatic department. Fond memories of the work, fun, and excitement are cherished by all who helped in some way with these productions. Those who saw the finished products have just as many enjoyable memories.

These next pages will help you meet again the characters in the plays. Barbara Lee and Calvin Holman are remembered as the lovesick couple in the Junior Play, "The Life of the Party." In the Senior Play, "Cuckoos on the Hearth," Bob Schulte played the slow moving sheriff.

"San Juan hill" was never before charged with as much agility as when Pat Webster dashed up the stairs in the part of Teddy Roosevelt Brewster in the All-School Play, "Arsenic and Old Lace." Chills were added to the evening's performance when Allan Snyder appeared as the criminal who looked like Boris Karloff.

The first play of the season was the Junior Play, "The Life of the Party."

Cinderella had nothing to boast about in her transformation from ugly duckling to charming beauty after Jean Hughes in the Junior Play, "The Life of the Party," gave stiff competition to the legendary characters!

New residents of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, the ambitious Mrs. Hughes, the frustrated Mr. Hughes, suave Teddy, and daughters Mildred, Amy, and Jean had difficulty in acclimating themselves to their new home.

Jean, brainy but unhappy, decided to become a glamour girl. She hoped thereby to attract Mike Tisdale, debonair man-about-school, though faithful Tommy King assured her that he liked her as she was.

Eccentricity Prevails

"Harmony Hearth—secluded and sequestered—a spot for intrigue, passion, MURDER!"

Highlighted by an eccentric author, a professor, a minister, an escaped lunatic, a traveling medicine man, a zany cousin, and the inventor-owner of Harmony Hearth, "Cuckoos on the Hearth," a thrilling mystery chosen for the Senior Class Play, kept theater-going Trojans on the edges of their seats.

Concerned with an isolated house filled with unwelcome visitors during a Maine blizzard, the action carried the audience breathlessly through a false and real ending, one by the erratic author-character in this play, and another by the real writer.

Amid the shrieks and applause of the audience, the heroine was neatly strangled twice—once by a woman psychiatrist, and again by the drawling county sheriff.

With an attendance second only to that of "Janie," the mystery was an outstanding performance that will be remembered as a delightfully confusing play depicting mystery, machinations, and double-dyed rascality.

SISTERS KINDLY KILL

Delight Audience

"Charge!" shouted Pat "Teddy Roosevelt" Webster as he dashed up the Hoehner-reinforced staircase in the Masque and Wig play, March 21. "Arsenic and Old Lace," long a favorite on stage and screen, suffered no let-down when produced at Topeka High by an all-school cast.

With Barbara Lee and Jerre McComas as the sweet old ladies who helped twelve old gentlemen out of this troubled world, and with Kenny Dinklage as the harassed dramatic critic, the play romped through chuckles, chills, and shouts of laughter.

New talent was discovered in Justin Haynes, who played Dr. Einstein, and Allan Snyder, the criminally insane Jonathan. Three sophomores were included in the cast; Jerre carried a major role, and Walter Menninger and Max Whitson gave strong support.

June Knox had the romantic role of Elaine. Hall Smith was the author-patrolman; other "minions of the law" were Don Yeager and Bob Shade. Forry Smith, as Mr. Gibbs, narrowly escaped becoming a permanent roomer in the Brewster mansion, and the final curtain fell as Jerome Hawley lifted the poisoned wine to his lips.

"... Two tablespoons arsenic, one tablespoon strychnine, and a dash of cyanide."

THESPIAN

Starting the year with only 15 member Topeka High's troupe of National Thespians soon was augmented by two affiliates from out-of-town schools, Bob Collins and Barbara Burdick. Sponsored by Miss Wheeler, the troupe elected the following officers: Jack Ward, president; Roger Williamson, vice-president; Peggy Dierking, secretary; and Wyvette Lilly, treasurer.

In the Spring initiation the number of Thespians was swelled to 31, and several honors were presented. For the equivalent of two major roles, the following were named Star Thespians: Barbara Lee, Lynn Wingett, Jack Ward, Henry Bradshaw, Dorothy Paramore, Pat Webster, Peggy Dierking, and Frank Thorn. One Double-Star Thespian was named, Roger Williamson; and one Triple-Star, Ken Dinklage.

The "best acting" award for the Fall semester was given to Pat Webster for his performance as the professor in "Cuckoos on the Hearth." For the portrayal of Mortimer in "Arsenic and Old Lace" Ken Dinklage won the "Oscar" for the Spring term.

MASQUE AND WIG

With membership made up of all who have held cast or staff positions in any play, the Masque and Wig Club is the largest extra-curricular group in the school. Its 147 members elected Bob Schulte their president and Marjorie Crane their secretary.

The event of the year was the banquet honoring the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the National Thespians, of which Masque and Wig is a part. Some 50 alumni returned for the dinner and the initiation of new Thespians which followed. Masque and Wig sponsored the All-School play, "Arsenic and Old Lace." Faculty supervisors of the group are Miss Gertrude Wheeler, Miss Ruth Grandon, and Miss Iva Oman.

THE ORCHESTRA

In swing with the events on its calendar the Orchestra started out with two engagements at the Municipal Auditorium. As each school play rolled around, members of the newly formed theatre orchestra crowded into the orchestra pit to furnish the needed music. When the "Pirates of Penzance" arrived in all its glory, the orchestra supported the vocalists with almost professional skill.

Interesting visits to all the junior highs, ushering for symphony concerts, the Orchestra assembly based on a recording studio, a fun-packed trip with the entire music group, and the Spring concert carried the Trojan musicians through another eventful year.

THE BAND

Looking ahead to their Spring activities, an enlarged band under the co-direction of C. J. McKee and Robert Rue appeared at all home football games and had, in recognition, a bonus trip to Ward. In addition the Black and Gold went on parade in honor of the Homecoming Queen, forming an appropriate backdrop for the royal presentation.

"The Typical Rehearsal" was played for parents at Open House. A sentimental Valentine drill on the basketball court caused plenty of comment. The band assembly, preparation for the Spring Music Festival, and plans for the annual trip of the Music Department brought the season to its all-important climax—the Trojan Band in concert!

BAND ENSEMBLES PERFORM

Receive Festival Honors

With Spring came many hours of practice for the hopeful musicians who planned to compete in the Music Festival in Lawrence, April 12. Each ensemble that won in a preliminary contest here continued its preparation for the big event. The high school music rooms were filled to overflowing with groups practicing before and after school. The climax came when they spent a profitable day attending the contest, rushing from building to building on the K. U. campus, playing before the judges, and bringing home honors.

PIRATES TAKE TROY

Song Wins Crowd

In the setting of a flower-grown rocky seacoast, noble pirates, beautiful girls, pompous British officers, and timid policemen mingled two evenings in February to sing the ever-amusing score of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance." A capacity house greeted the performers each night.

Interspersed among the many familiar songs by the Choruses were such solos as "Poor Wandering One" sung by Marjorie Haskell, "The Major General's Song" by Dean Grogger, "Is There Not One Maiden Here" by Bob Wilcox, "When Frederick Was a Little Lad" by Ann Cowger, and "I Am a Pirate King" by Don Walrafen.

Don M. Gleckler directed the Boys' and Girls' Choruses and the Orchestra, assisted by the other instructors in the Music Department, Richard Blehm, C. J. McKee, and Robert Rue. The picturesque sets for the seacoast and the chapel were arranged by J. H. Hoehner and the Stagecraft class.

VOCAL GROUPS ENTERTAIN

Singers Answer Call for Music

Maintaining the same standards of excellence that they have achieved in previous years, the Topeka High School vocal groups under the direction of Don M. Gleckler gave pleasure to scores of organizations this year.

Both the Boys' Senior Glee and the Girls' Senior Glee were invited to sing for junior high schools, civic clubs, church gatherings, and such meetings as those of the Kansas Women's Republican Club and the State Teachers' Association. The Madrigal Singers, the Sextette, and the Octette also had a full calendar, appearing usually before smaller audiences.

The public had its first opportunity of the school year to hear the choruses and vocal soloists in the gay Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance." Later in the season, many students who had taken part in it went to Kansas City to attend Wyandotte's presentation of the same operetta.

Other highlights for the music students were the Lawrence Music Festival, where they walked off with 27 first place ratings, and the Spring trip to Kansas City. The Glee Club concert in May showed the groups at their best, after a year of intensive training. Their final appearances are associated with the closing of school—Senior Vespers and Commencement.

NEW ORGAN PLEASES

Rumor had it that the Music Department was going to give the school a big surprise, but the secret was well-kept throughout the Fall.

On the morning of December 10, Superintendent Kenneth McFarland, presiding in assembly, announced that a new Hammond organ had been purchased by the Board of Education for Topeka High and was to be presented.

The first number on the organ was "The Star Spangled Banner," played by Miss Katherine Sentz, a music supervisor. Richard Blehm of the Topeka High faculty played school songs; and Louis Eversole played request numbers to a delighted audience.

At most assemblies following, Mr. Blehm has played as students convened. Topeka High is proud of its new organ.

"Doo-o let's go to Cucamongo," wailed comics Paulsen Leighton and Garner Palenske, as the gala All-School Party took to the air the evening of December 16. Lingerin' memories of the extravaganza include "Rita Hayworth" Cowger, gaily presenting the waiting passengers with a warm number from the movie, "Gilda," a trio of golden harmony pleasantly emitting "Boogie Bugle Boy," and a quartet of tired pilots taking off on the vocal air-ways to come from "Behind Those Swinging Doors." Local yokels, Billie Strickland and Bob Collins, added to the merriment by "Laughing on the Outside," while Kilroy conveniently entered through the floor.

Dorothy DePriest thrilled the audience with tap dancing, and Willie Malone with his partner, Pauline Wilson, gave spectators a lesson in jitter-bugging. August "Jr. Count Basie" Jackson had all Trojan feet patting out the rhythm of one of his own piano specialties.

Trojan ears were further caressed by music provided by Dick Steves, Paul Boatwright, Lloyd Trace, the flying fingers of Frank Logan, and Dave Overmeyer and his band.

With the new organ providing the background, the dramatic presentation of the King and Queen highlighted the evening. From there on, dancing ensued in the cafeteria and the music room supplemented with other entertainment, until finally only pleasant memories remained of the 1946 All-School Party's niche in Trojan history.

Rumors ran rampant, speculation swirled through the halls; therefore great was the release of pent-up curiosity when fourteen All-School Party royalty appeared. Elected by the popular vote of the school, the royalty received their honor with dignity.

Attendants to the King and Queen in reigning over the evening's festivities were Nancy Boyle, Ann Cowger, Ann Lundgren, Betty Marston, Monita McNeill, Charles Benson, Charles Gordon, Dick McConnell, Don Shultz, Bob Shyne, Tom Hardy, Abbie Williams, Donald Redmond, and Carol Lee Smith. Combining high quality beauty, charm, athletic ability, and scholarship, the group represented the outstanding qualities of the Senior Class.

'STARDUST' THEME

Junior Prom Sets

The Juniors certainly did a bang-up job on planning the Prom this year! Everyone wishes on stars, but who expected them to come down to earth? The evening was a dreamy one—stars in the skies, stars in the cafeteria, and stars in everyone's eyes. "Stardust" was the theme of the big Trojan social event of the year, and the affair was really heavenly.

The program preceding the dance was everything anyone could ask for. The ballet by some of our burly, beautiful football boys brought howls and screams from the appreciative audience. A Pan-American touch came with songs by Martha Delgado and Rachel Tetuan and a dance by a ten-year old senorita. Mercedes Gilbert thrilled the audience with her beautiful voice, and Don Walrafen and Bob Wilcox sang a collection of songs to everyone's delight. Frank Logan made his first public appearance at the Hammond.

1. "Dudin' up..."
2. Shirley Hicks chants "Boogie Blues"
3. "... my stardust melody ..."

DELIGHTS SENIORS

Record for Beauty

The hit of the evening was the hilarious alumni skit featuring Bill Walton, Bob Taggart, and Terry McAdam in their impersonation of the Andrew Sisters. In trembling honeyed voices, the terrific trio rendered songs that really clutched our heart strings. Dickie Steves and his band, under the direction of the music department, played music that set feet tapping and pulses racing. The tempo of the program was a fast one, borne along on tides of hilarity and fun.

The Junior-Senior Prom was a huge success and will be remembered with laughter and fondness. Looked forward to longingly every year, this Prom fully met expectations. Prom-goers will remember—and smile.

2. Dancer's smile entrances onlookers
3. "Thanks for the memory . . ."

SOPHOMORES DANCE

Enjoy Their Party

Looking back on the Sophomore Party with its "49er" theme, the Sophs will agree that it was the best party ever.

Remember how we laughed when Jerre Ann McComas gave us her impersonation of Cass Daley? And remember the Fisher twins, Charlotte Dickinson, Jackie Becker, Norma Bledsoe, John Long, and Martha Herrick, who gave such a fine program?

Then, too, there was the important matter of food; all of us remember laughingly how President McNeill stood at the door and warned us to guard our refreshment tickets with our lives. We did. After the program, all the groovy guys and gals had a swell time dancing in the big cafeteria which, for once, they had all to themselves with no Juniors and Seniors to crowd the dance floor. We'll all remember our own Sophomore Party—and the memories of it will be treasured all our lives.

1. Dickinson and Pressman swing out while crowd watches.
2. "Lived a miner—'49er"—Jerre McComas tells us.
3. Rhythm is the keynote.
4. Fisher twins baffle audience with magic.

GIRLS HAVE FUN

Give Radio Skit

The annual All-Girl Party went over in a big way this year, under the direction of Miss Annabel Pringle. As Sophomore girls were taken to the party by their "Big Sisters," everyone had a chance to become acquainted.

The program, written by June Knox and Dorothy Paramore, was in the form of a radio show, "Truth—or We Ain't Responsible." In it Jerry Dykes, a Sophomore, failed to tell the truth and became mixed up in a tangled love affair involving Joan Nail and Jerry Eaton. Contestants on the program were named at random from the audience.

A skit written by Marcia McCue told the story in pantomime of a tribe of Indian girls in bathing suits, who held captive the princess, Wyvette Lilly.

Dorothy Smith headed the food committee. Popcorn and cokes were brought in on a cart pulled by a "horse" formed of two Senior girls.

Girls danced to the music of the juke box and talked to old and new friends after the program.

1. Girls compete in milk race.
2. Eaton escorts Jerry Dykes from man-less crowd.
3. Sad sextet weep into microphone.

Groups Work, Play

USHER CLUB

Do you remember that pert little Tro-Jane who led you to your seat at the All-School play? And that courteous Tro-Joe who found you a program and got you settled before the curtain went up on the operetta? Well, both were members of the Usher Club, a club whose record is one of constant service to Topeka High. Miss Gladys Brooks was their director.

VARSITY CADETS

Credit for the swell varsities we have had this year goes to the Varsity Cadets. There was always a group of them at every varsity to see that all was orderly and smooth-running. The snack bar was operated by this group also, and the juke-box was kept full of jivey records through the efforts of these citizens of Troy. The group numbered about sixty, and was under the direction of Charles Shoyer.

JUNIOR PRESS CLUB

Topeka High's Junior Press Club is composed of English class reporters and other students interested in journalism. Throughout the school year members have contributed articles to the World and have striven to better their writing. Last Fall the club edited three pages of one issue of the World.

Officers of the club for the past year were: President, Martha Force; vice-president, Calvin Holman; secretary, Elise Sheppard.

HOSTS AND PROCTORS

Work for School

Hall, library, and office proctors, and head hosts and hostesses have gained valuable experience during the year by helping the machinery of the school to run smoothly.

Hall proctors, perched at strategic entrances, supervised corridors and maintained order during fourth hour classes. Beside admitting passes, they controlled lunch lines and kept the crowds in the back hall in order.

Proctors for the nurse, attendance, guidance, or general office, often dispatched call slips with an important air. Answering telephones, operating the switchboard, checking files, typing pass lists, and sorting attendance cards were among their numerous duties.

Head hosts and hostesses presided at the head table each noon, checking table clearance and general neatness in the cafeteria.

Citizens and office workers of tomorrow learn efficiency and responsibility today in the network of proctors who serve their school.

TRADE SCHOOL ACTIVE

Photography Aids Annual

The whirl of machinery, the racket of moving parts of metals of all kinds, and the friendly geniality of students working together on interesting projects, are all characteristic of the Trade School. This school teaches many interesting subjects including Machine Shop, Electricity, Auto-Mechanics, Radio, and Photography. A branch of Topeka High School, it teaches many future Edisons and Henry Fords the basic steps in their future professions. Containing many varieties of equipment, the subjects are made easier by the best of tools and instruction. The Trade School is under the direction of H. Coy, F. W. Holcomb, O. J. Palmer, J. Studebaker, J. L. Pogson, and J. O. Blevans.

CONGRATULATIONS
to the class of '47

The Capper organization extends best wishes to you for many happy and prosperous years ahead.

In considering further education, remember that often the best opportunities are at one's own doorstep. Washburn Municipal University is growing and is widening its field of service to students. Topeka is expanding and needs the talents of those trained in the educational institutions of this city.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL BUILDING

Washburn is set in an attractive place, framed by a landscape of cedars and old elm, and vignetted by the customary ivy.

- Following the tradition of liberal education long established in this country, Washburn aims to graduate men and women who are intellectually competent and emotionally mature, qualified for both leadership and discriminating cooperation. New courses in professional training, such as the Bachelor of Business Administration, enable students to prepare effectively for the demands of a new world.
- The College of Liberal Arts is accredited by the Kansas State Board of Education, the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and the Association of American Universities. Washburn alumnae are admitted to membership in the American Association of University Women.
- The School of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, and conforms to its standards of excellence in library, teaching staff, and scholarship. The school is also on the list approved by the American Bar Association. Its location in the capital city provides students opportunity to attend and observe the procedure of a variety of courts, and the chance to meet and become acquainted with the best minds of the legal profession to be found in Kansas.
- An enlarged faculty keeps Washburn classes small and individual contacts possible. A very important part of education takes place through an informal intermingling of students and faculty in a democratic atmosphere. The new Student Building will contribute greatly to a finer student spirit on the Washburn campus.

Summer session announcements and the University catalog will be supplied upon request.
